

Marie Mozzi

Marie's experience as a mentor, coach, and trainer was a perfect fit into TWN.

She has embraced and defined the role of a leader through her personal life and professional career. She has worked with corporations, business owners, military and trained others to unleash and produce unprecedented results. She creates unique programming, customer service initiatives, and leadership programming to improve company revenue streams and overall productivity.

A competitive athlete herself, she has taught her the meaning of mastery as well as positive problem-solving, through implementing techniques and training beyond traditional measures.

With over 30 years in the Wellness industry, Marie has created, consulted and directed Spas and Fitness Centers. She has been called upon to motivate, create, and direct facilities and teams from struggling to spotlight. Marie has an innate capability to not only highlight and direct teams to success but to uncover individual strengths and hidden talents that elevate personal confidence as well as contributing and improving team morale and productivity, retention and the overall bottom line. Properties under her direction have received accolades and awards for obtaining industry benchmarkers and exceeding performance standards.

Marie is a motivational presenter, keynote speaker, and program facilitator; her accolades include TV appearances, product spokesperson, celebrity trainer, contributing author, and columnist
